

EAGLES TO GIVE SWELL FUNCTION

ANNIVERSARY DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT AT THE PA-VILION.

The anniversary dance of the Eagles will be given tomorrow night at the pavilion, and the affair promises to be the greatest ever held under the auspices of the Eagles in this town. The most complete arrangements are under way, and every member of the various committees has constituted himself a committee of one to see that all the details are carried out.

The dances of the Eagles have always been among the most popular affairs of the kind in Tonopah, and there are crowds enough to make the occasion a royal one. The committee of arrangements have been busy for several weeks on the work that has been allotted to them, and there will be a number of novel features introduced that are sure to meet with the approval of every guest. The best of music has been secured, and the hall will be tastefully decorated, which work is in the hands of those who understand it, and every care is being given to the details so that nothing but success will crown the efforts of the committee.

RICKEY MEANS ALL THE BANKS

PLEDGES TO PLACE ENTIRE FORTUNE AS SECURITY.

The depositors of the State Bank and Trust company are still signing the agreement upon which the bank is to open, but there is not yet the required number on the roll to warrant the opening of the bank. Some of the depositors are under the delusion that when President Rickey pledged his private fortune in Goldfield as a security that all the depositors would be paid, that he referred only to the Goldfield branch. "This is a mistake," said Cashier Cushman of the bank yesterday, when spoken to regarding this phase of the matter. "Mr. Rickey meant the depositors of all the banks. He could not or would not discriminate against any of the agencies. He has pledged his fortune that all the depositors of all the State banks will be paid, dollar for dollar in the event of their signing the agreement, and the sooner all sign, the sooner we will be open, and the sooner will all the depositors get their money."

PERSONAL MENTION

W. McClure Gotwaldt, a newspaper man of Goldfield, passed through yesterday on his way to Reno.

F. E. Grotto, who has been in the city for several weeks, left for his home in Reno yesterday.

M. J. O'Meara, who has been in San Francisco for several days, is expected home this morning.

H. H. Braley of Los Angeles, and H. W. Squires, general manager of the Sheep Ranch Consolidated Mining company, were among yesterday morning's arrivals. They were the guests of James Force in the afternoon on a visit to the Mizpah mine.

Malcolm Macdonald, Cashier Harris of the Nevada First National bank, and Dr. R. J. Mapes left for Goldfield yesterday afternoon to meet and greet former Senator W. A. Clark, who reached Goldfield yesterday on his long postpaid trip to the mining camp.

Captain W. G. Cotter of the Cotter Mines company, at Golden Arrow, left yesterday morning for San Jose, California. He was accompanied by J. F. McClelland, who has been studying the mines of the country, preparatory to taking a position in the Stanford university mining department.

ADVERTISE IN THE BONANZA.

NO CHANGE IN FIRE DEPARTMENT

RESIGNATIONS OF CHIEF MCKENZIE AND MEN GO FOR NAUGHT.

There will be no change in the fire department for the present. The resignations of Jack McKenzie and his boys to Overseer Degan go for naught. They might as well have been made to Governor Sparks or Ray Baker. Mr. Degan has no more power than either of those gentlemen to receive them, or to appoint their successors.

This state of affairs was developed at a meeting of the county commissioners held yesterday afternoon. Messrs. McQuillan and Cuddy, who had heretofore taken no action in the controversy between Jack McKenzie and Overseer Degan, resolved to give both a hearing before the resignations took effect last night. District Attorney McCarran, the legal representative of the board, was present. A statement was made by the chief and another by the board's overseer. The conference was really more of a heart to heart talk between the men than anything that might approach the character of an inquisition.

Commissioner McQuillan, who interrogated both men gently chided the chief for having been too hasty in handing in his resignation, while McKenzie maintained that there was nothing else for him to do. Mr. McQuillan told him that the proper place for redress was before the commissioners if he thought that he had a grievance, and Jack said that he guessed that that was right. Mr. Degan averred that he had had no feeling in the matter, and that he was astonished when he received the resignations. Then the matter of Mr. Degan's powers came up, and the district attorney advised the board that they had no authority to delegate any power to him over the fire department. The ordinance creating the position of overseer was read, and found to apply to the streets and to the sanitation of the town.

"There is no way in the world," said Mr. McCarran, "that Mr. Degan can have any control over the fire department."

"Do you mean to say," asked Mr. McQuillan, "that we cannot delegate any powers to him?"

"Only by amending the ordinance, or passing a new one," was the answer.

The matter was gone into a little further, and it was found that there never had been passed an ordinance creating a paid fire department. This was distracting; but the district attorney came to the assistance of the board by advising that as the board had been paying all the bills of the department, and the salaries of the men, as well as for all of the apparatus, the department could not be well classed as a volunteer department; it was a paid department, all right.

"Well," said Mr. Cuddy, "we have certainly stirred up something here. We learn something every day."

It was decided to allow the matter to go over until the next regular meeting of the board, which will take place tomorrow, when the entire subject will be threshed out, and in the meantime, it was ordered that conditions in the department remain as they are. There will be no change until after the meeting, and it is doubtful, in view of what has arisen, if there will be then.

"The trouble first started with copper. When work on the railroads and other big industries began shutting down, the demand for copper ceased. The big electrical works had on hand all that they could handle, and with the cessation of work, more. The result was a slump in copper, and then the demand for silver grew less. The smelters suffered a big loss on the silver from Nevada. They bought tons of it and paid for it in cash at 68 cents an ounce, and have been obliged to sell it all the way down to below 58 cents. This meant a big loss to the smelters."

"It takes something to treat ore at the smelters. The Tonopah Mining company sends about a thousand tons a week. This ore is not rushed right into the smelter upon arrival; no indeed. It has to take its turn. It is laid out in a bed, and there are mixed with it 1000 tons of lead, 1000 tons of iron, and 1000 tons of some other ore, until the proper analysis is secured. All of this takes time, and the work is not through by any means. It is easy enough to dispose of the refined gold, but when it comes to the silver and copper, markets must be found for these metals. They cannot sell silver bullion at will, and if they attempt to force it on the market, the inevitable results. Here is where free coinage of silver would help us, and it would aid the present situation, or a similar situation which might again arise, by providing a greater circulating medium."

"The smelter situation is improving. I am informed that the Yampa smelter at Bingham is going to resume in a few days, and they are increasing the work at the Garfield smelter, and will probably keep on doing this until they are working at its full capacity."

Journals, cash books and ledgers—just the thing the merchant needs—best that can be made. For sale at the Bonanza office.

FRANK KEITH IS OPTIMISTIC

SAYS INDICATIONS POINT TO A SPEEDY SETTLEMENT OF FINANCIAL TROUBLES.

Frank A. Keith, general manager of the Tonopah Mining company, who returned sometime since from the east and the coast, has been busy ever since his arrival, but yesterday found time to do a little talking on the financial situation, which he thinks is in a very fair way to mend pretty soon.

"There are several indications which point to a speedy termination of the trouble," said he; "and one of the best that I have seen of late is the determination of Harriman to resume work on the Union Pacific. This means that the labor situation will be helped out amazingly, and that there will be more money in circulation. Mr. Harriman is as well posted on the financial situation as is anybody, and he must be sure of getting the money that is needed to prosecute the work that he is going to undertake; otherwise he would not start it."

"There is something which I have not been able to fathom yet, and that is the withdrawal of the government certificates, after there were but $35,000,000 of them disposed of. The only way in which that can be accounted for this distance, is that enough have been sold to fill the requirements. This would mean that the east has all the money that it needs, and that there is plenty for the west. We are moving our crops, and there is money constantly flowing into the country from abroad. Every steamer arriving from Europe brings its quota of millions, and this of course means that it cannot be much longer before conditions will be righted."

"This trouble has not been confined to the United States by any means. In Canada they have good crops, and have not the money to move them. We were in the same fix, but we have pulled out of it. Congress will undoubtedly arrange some plan, by which we will be prevented from ever being caught again in the same predicament. We hear some talk about the free coinage of silver, but I do not think that we will get that. We may have some relief in that regard however, which would help."

"The reason why the smelters do not want our ore at the present time is that they have now more than they can handle. They increased the working charges $3 a ton recently for no other reason than to discourage our shipments. And I was told when I was in Salt Lake that the charges would again be increased, doubled, if necessary, to stop Nevada's output. They cannot handle what they have at present, and they have not the money to pay for more. They shut off paying cash for ore for the reason that they could not get the money out of the banks. The smelters were in the same position with regard to the banks as was everybody else."

"The trouble first started with copper. When work on the railroads and other big industries began shutting down, the demand for copper ceased. The big electrical works had on hand all that they could handle, and with the cessation of work, more. The result was a slump in copper, and then the demand for silver grew less. ELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICES TODAY

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY TAKES PLACE AT THE PA-VILION.

The memorial services of Tonopah Lodge No. 1062, B. P. O. E., will be held this afternoon in the Eagles' pavilion at 2 o'clock, and the public is invited to attend. This is one of the most beautiful services of the Elks, and it is celebrated wherever there is a lodge of the order, on this day, in commemoration of the departed brethren of the year. The Tonopah lodge has it to be grateful for that there is not one of the order who has passed away; but that satisfying fact does not detract from the impressive features of the ceremonies.

There will be some of the finest music ever listened to in Tonopah, and there will be two addresses well worth hearing. District Attorney P. H. McCarran is the orator of the occasion, while C. H. McIntosh will deliver the eulogy. Following is the program in full:

Opening ceremonies.
Quartet, Messrs. Burrows, Benbow, Ziegler, Downs.
Opening ode (audience joining): Great Ruler of the Universe, All-seeing and benign.
Look down upon and bless our work And be all glory Thine;
O! hear our prayers for the honored dead,

While bearing in our minds, The memories graven on each heart For "Auld Lang Syne."

Music—"O, Rend Your Hearts!" (Recitative and Aria from Elijah), Mr. Arthur Burrows.

Address—P. A. McCarran.
Music, violin—Selected, Arthur Perry.

Eulogy—C. H. McIntosh.
Music—Selected, James E. Ziegler.
Closing ceremonies.

Closing ode (Airs: "Home, Sweet Home.")

We've finished our labor the parting has come.

And each of our brothers now goes to his home;

And our voices blending, we now will depart.

In perfect love, giving each note from the heart.

Each duty accomplished, each brother content,

Oh, thus may we ever our friendship cement;

May Charity, Justice and Brotherly Love

At last lead us all to the Grand Lodge above.
